

5.4.22

The students from class 2 H discuss live of 1 hour with classes from Romania, Hungary, Spain, Croatia themes related to

About the class :

English is becoming more and more important for education, communication and work. But keeping local languages alive is important if we want local communities and their traditions to survive too.

Come along to this lesson to learn about languages that exist alongside English in different countries...and be ready to teach a bit of your mother tongue too!

In this lesson your students will:

Find out about another school's language learning habits and explain theirs too

Learn about languages spoken by fewer people and why they are important

Teach some words from their own language and learn some words of another language (not English)
