

QUEEN

The great rock band was born in England in 1970.

In my opinion it is the best rock band of all times, and it made my life every day more exciting.

The members of the group were four: John Deacon to the bass, Roger Taylor to the drums, my idol, Brian May, plays his best friend the Gibson guitar - called "Red Star" -, and the vocalist, the "queen", Farrokh Bulsara - his stage-name is Freddy Mercury - for me was the best vocalist of all times.

On 24th November 1991, Freddy Mercury, suffering from AIDS, died of pneumonia.

In those years I wasn't born yet, but I can only imagine the shock caused by this terrible news, all the fans all over the world must have felt they had lost a part of themselves.

Those who have never heard a song of the mythical band, can't understand it, but those who have will share my views, I'm sure.
